satisfaction and bliss of the spirit which is revealed in deeds and not in a state of inaction.

8. To page 139. One is obliged to use the word "Purposes" in regard to the impelling or motive Powers of the world evolution, although it opens the door to a temptation to conceive of these Powers simply as human purposes. In the case of such words—which had naturally to be taken from the sphere of human life—this temptation can be averted only by the raising of oneself when using them to a significance from which every connection with human limitation is banished, and there is assigned to them what man approximately imbues them with on those occasions in his life when he, to a certain degree, rises above himself.

9. To page 139. Further particulars in regard to the "Spiritual Word" are to be found in my "Outline of Occult Science."
